DRIVER OF POVERTY #7

High teen birth rates

Mural Theme: "Truth Hurts"

Join The Walls Project in igniting change by supporting our upcoming mural on "Truth Hurts", which addresses the 7th Driver of Poverty.

1 in 4 teen moms will go on a welfare benefit program within the third year of their child's life. Teen mothers are less likely to finish high school. Many of them have a much slimmer chance at completing any level of higher education. This can prevent them from attaining higher paying jobs resulting in unstable incomes to provide for their children.

Through public art, The Walls Project hopes to affect the dialogue around teen birth rates and the ripple effects from it.
